Agilent Virtual Dioxins Summit

Meet and greet with leaders and experts

Welcome to the Agilent Virtual Dioxins Summit

Don't miss this opportunity to attend the Agilent Virtual Dioxins Summit.

This one-day interactive online summit offers you valuable information for keeping up-to-date on the latest dioxin trends and developments in the field.

This summit offers:

- An exciting meeting in a virtual environment, conducive to business, scientific, and social exchange
- Access to both the fundamental and practical aspects of dioxin separation science, with the main focus on new and highly relevant trends emerging in this field for improving dioxin analysis
- The opportunity to focus on the newest scientific trends and professional developments in dioxin analysis

During the summit you will have the opportunity to:

- Listen to top leaders and application experts from the comfort of your home or office
- Ask each speaker questions in the real-time Q&A session following each broadcast
- Visit our exhibition booths virtually through the online platform
- Virtually meet, chat, and exchange ideas with all participants, as well as with Agilent experts

This is a meeting for you – feel free to get involved, ask questions, make suggestions and be a part of the Agilent dioxin community.
